

Clivia Xcyrtanthiflora

COMMON NAME

Clivia lily

FAMILY

Amaryllidaceae

AUTHORITY

Clivia Xcyrtanthiflora (Van Houtte) Voss

FLORA CATEGORY

Vascular – Exotic

STRUCTURAL CLASS

Herbs - Monocots

CONSERVATION STATUS

Not applicable

SIMILAR TAXA

Clivia miniata which differs by the very wide, obtuse tipped leaves, and much larger flowers with broader petals.

FLOWER COLOURS

Orange, Red/Pink

LIFE CYCLE

Perennial, reproduces by seed; dispersed by birds.

YEAR NATURALISED

2005

REASON FOR INTRODUCTION

Cold tolerant - deciduous. Shade tolerant but flourishes best in full sun. Can tolerate a wide range of situations, soils and moisture regimes.

MORE INFORMATION

<https://www.nzpcn.org.nz/flora/species/clivia-xcyrtanthiflora/>

Clivia Xcyrtanthiflora close up of flowers, St Lukes Road, Mt Albert, Auckland (wild plant), April 2006. Photographer: Peter J. de Lange, Licence: CC BY-NC.

Clivia Xcyrtanthiflora in flower, St Lukes Road, Mt Albert, Auckland (wild plant), April 2006. Photographer: Peter J. de Lange, Licence: CC BY-NC.